

COMPETITION

Places up for grabs at Fistrat girls days

WITH the unprecedented rise in the number of women taking to the water nowadays, BodyGlove and SurfGirl magazine are putting on a fun-packed girls-only surf coaching day on Saturday.

The following weekend Rip Curl are holding a 'Girls Go Surfing' Weekend. Both events are designed as an introduction to surfing, for girls who want to learn and improve in a friendly environment with Britain's top female surfers and surf coaches.

The days comprise a surf lesson in the morning and one in the afternoon and is available for both beginners and intermediates wishing to take their surfing to the next level and will be coached by top English Surfing Federation surf school instructors at the south end of Fistrat beach.

All girls that take part will receive a well stocked goodie bag. The price is £25 for one session, £40 for the day. To book a place call 01637 851800.

This is a great chance for girls that have always promised themselves that they'd give it a try to start the summer learning the right way, in a fun, no pressure environment AND get a bag full of free stuff on the way.

The ESF Surf School are giving away four places, two sessions on the Surf-Girl/BodyGlove day, and two on one of the Rip Curl days.

All you have to do to have a chance of winning a place is call 01637 851800 with the correct answer to this question:-

Where are the ESF surf school running the events?

- The south end of Fistrat beach.
- In Birmingham.
- In Manchester.
- On the Moon.

If you don't win, just quote 'Cornish Guardian' when you book for a £5 discount.